the names jamestown and plymouth have become synonymous for most students of american history with founding and birth both of the american nation and of freedom and democracy themselves in this book author ted lamont asks us to reconsider our country s formative years and explore the stories, lives, achievements, and failures of America's earliest founding fathers those who paved the way for the colonial era and the American Revolution. They were explorers, investors, passionate religious leaders, and determined developers who struggled for generations to successfully plant the English flag in this strange new soil. Lamont deifty details the ways in which the stories and struggles of figures like Sir Walter Raleigh, Bartholomew Gosnold, Richard Hakluyt, Sir Ferdinando Gorges, and Captain John Smith were not just related but connected in ways that help us better understand the colonies and culture born of their efforts. The infancy of America from Roanoke's founding in 1585 through the firm establishment of Jamestown and Plymouth in 1625 is where we first see planted the seeds of the rest of America's colonial economic, political, and cultural history that was the immensely difficult and often overlooked first step toward the New World we are still working to perfect.

The Leiden Circle pioneered the systematic exclusion of theologically grounded argument in areas of thought from the natural sciences to international relations. Somos uses richly contextualised portraits of Scaliger, Heinsius, Cunaeus, and Grotius to develop a new model of secularisation.

Accompanying the exhibition at Louvre Abu Dhabi, the catalogue Rembrandt, Vermeer and the Dutch Golden Age provides an image-rich overview of the artworks exhibited, complimented by four essays. The first situates the Leiden collection within the context of the Dutch Golden Age; the second and third describe the major role that the Netherlands played on a global scale in the 17th century, the specificities of the Dutch Golden Age as well as the work of Rembrandt and his contemporaries, rooted in the society of that time; and the fourth essay sheds light on the particular role that drawing played in the creative process of Dutch artists.

An Inner World: The exhibition, co-curated by Lara Yeager Crasselt of the Leiden Collection and Heather Gibson Moqtaderi, Assistant Director and Associate Curator of the Arthur Ross Gallery, features exceptional paintings by 17th-century Dutch artists working in or near the city of Leiden, including nine paintings from the Leiden Collection, New York, and one painting from the Clark Art Institute, Williamstown, MA. Ten rare 17th-century books drawn from the collection of the University of Pennsylvania's Kislak Center for Special Collections, Rare Books and Manuscripts, expand the intellectual and cultural contexts of the exhibition. Works by Gerrit Dou, Gabriel Metsu, Domenicus van Tol, Willem van Mieris, and Jacob Toorenvliet demonstrate how these artists developed a sustained interest in an inner world, figures in interior spaces and in moments of contemplation or quiet exchange, achieved through their meticulous technique of fine painting. In this lavishly illustrated catalogue, essays penned by specialists in the field of early modern Dutch painting illuminate the exhibition's themes and lesser-known artists, and shed new light on the fijnschilders or fine painters of Leiden. Yeager Crasselt's essay explores the central themes of an inner world through the lens of Leiden as a university city and Dutch artists' interests in the illusionism of space, candlelight, and painted surfaces. Shira Brisman examines the use of candlelight in 17th-century paintings and its role as a source of illumination as well as an indicator of the larger issue of the wax trade and the outer world of commerce last eric jorink reflects on the confluence of art science and religion in the dutch golden age
